HERE'S THE PEOPLE!

THE DEMOCRACY PUT A COUNTY TICKET IN THE FIELD

An Enthusiastic and Harmonious Gathering of the Democratic Hosts—A Ticket That Will Prove a Winner—A Stirling Address by Hon. Owen Scott, Candidate for Congress

County Judge W. E. NELSON
County Sheriff PETER PERL
County Treasurer H. C. MONTGOMERY
County Clerk F. B. RITCHIE
County Superintendent J. N. DOUGHERTY

The principal difference between the republican and democratic management in Macon county this year is this:

The republican bosses have said "Decatur turns the votes that elect republicans to office, and therefore Decatur should have all the offices. No farmers need apply."

The democracy on the contrary has extended a full and free invitation to the farmers to attend the party conventions and take an equitable share in the distribution of the offices.

That the farmers appreciated the spirit manifested by the democracy, was evidenced by the way they have turned out to the democratic conventions. It was a truly representative body that gathered at the court house yesterday morning to put in nomination for the offices to be filled in Macon county this fall, men who should represent all parts of the county, and all classes of citizens. There were even more farmers in attendance than there were at the spring convention. For not only were all the delegations full but there were many farmers who were present simply through an interest in the welfare of the party and a desire to have the farming community properly represented.

At a few minutes after 11 o'clock the convention was called to order and George Johnston, of Austin township, was made temporary chairman. C. C. LeForgee was made secretary and F. B. Ritchie, of Illinois township, assistant secretary.

On motion a committee of five, consisting of E. J. Roberts, A. Hawkyard, Jacob Sine, John H. Miller and A. G. Webber, was appointed to examine the credentials of delegates. The committee returned and on motion the convention adjourned until one o'clock.

After dinner the committee on credentials reported the following delegates as entitled to seats in the convention:

Decatur—First—W. E. Knight, C. T. Kimball, C. E. Wheeler and F. Bold. Second—James Veale, Lee Hall, Thos. McDonough, Bert Humphrey. Third—Dr. J. C. Hall, T. J. Chromster, Benjamin Dill, G. L. Scott. Fourth—R. T. Davis, Josiah Abbott, L. C. Kizer, A. G. Webber. Fifth—J. R. McLean, J. W. Fletcher, John S. Russell. Sixth—J. N. Baker, I. D. Walker, J. S. C. Cassius. Seventh—B. K. Durfee, L. J. Martin, J. M. Gray. Eighth—S. M. Tucker, R. M. Bugg, Gustave Labaudt, A. Olesen. Ninth—C. B. Osborne, Thos. Odor, James McKinley, Henry Meyer, Lee Ebert, S. Myer. Tenth—J. O. Sine, John Gogerty, John Little, Frank McCune, Charles Dressen. Eleventh—J. D. Seiberling, H. Logan.

Austin—A. Hawkyard, George Johnston, Blue Mound—W. I. Mumford, J. E. Hill, R. D. Huddleston.

Friends Creek—J. E. Helmick, L. Jones, Austin Wright, W. Y. Griffin, C. B. Currier.

Harrisburg—J. L. Connelly, J. J. Wheeler, Frank Mumford.

Illini—F. B. Ritchie, Martin Albert, Jas. Corcoran.

Long Creek—John B. Sorin, M. D. Kizer, A. W. Horton.

Macon—Joseph Eick, John Zollars, W. J. Daniels, H. Richards.

Milam—E. D. Broudy.

Mt. Zion—John McGaughran, R. T. Williams, G. E. Spitzer, J. Turpin.

Marion—B. F. Shipley, Aaron Moon, M. P. Funk, Basil Cooper, W. H. Long, Miner Allison.

Niantic—J. P. Faris, W. H. Thompson, Patrick Graham, I. N. Webb, J. D. Gasaway.

Oakley—Martin Funk, J. L. Veach, James Costello.

Pleasant View—N. A. Carr, A. Reedy, E. Weygandt, J. W. K. McKelre, J. M. Miller.

Wheatland—Hiram Ward, Thomas Hill, John H. Miller.

Whitmore—P. Noble, James Babcock, George Neuf.

As soon as the committee reported the temporary organization was made permanent and a motion to proceed to nominations was carried and the real business of the convention began.

For county judge, the present incumbent W. E. Nelson was placed in nomination by A. G. Webber with a neat speech. The nomination was seconded by A. Hawkyard, of Austin township, and on motion Judge Nelson was declared the nominee by acclamation.

The sheriff question came up next for settlement. Major Williams, of Mt. Zion, placed in nomination Peter Perl, of Decatur, and this nomination was seconded by A. G. Webber. J. P. Faris, of Niantic, nominated P. W. Delaney, of Decatur, and this nomination was seconded by B. K. Durfee. The list was completed by the nomination of W. L. Whitley, of Harrisburg township. The first ballot, which was an informal one, resulted as follows: Perl, 72; Delaney, 17; Whitley, 8. On motion of J. P. Faris, Perl was chosen by acclamation.

For county treasurer, E. J. Roberts, of Illini, arose, and in an eloquent speech that would have been worthy of praise in a legislative hall, placed in nomination, H. C. Montgomery of Macon township. He paid a high tribute to the ability of Mr. Montgomery and the esteem in which he is held by all who know him and his words of commendation were confirmed by the action of the convention, which proceeded to declare him the unanimous choice of the convention, after the nomination had been seconded by Prof. B. F. Shipley, of Macon. For county clerk, F. B. Ritchie, of Illini township, was nominated by B. K. Durfee and seconded by Major Williams. He was chosen by acclamation.

Prof. J. N. Donahy, principal of the Boody schools, was also elected by acclamation. The nomination was made by A. Hawkyard and seconded by J. M. Gray.

This completed the ticket and on motion the convention adjourned in order to listen to an address from Hon. Owen Scott, of Bloomington, the democratic candidate for congress in this district who was the guest of the Macon county democracy yesterday.

Mr. Scott was introduced by Chairman Johnston and delivered an able, forcible and logical presentation of the issues of the campaign. He talked but a little over an hour but in this brief time he demonstrated the wisdom of the Lincoln convention that selected him as the champion to redeem the Fourteenth district from the misrepresentation it has had in the halls of congress these many years. Mr. Scott received the legislative record of Capt. Rowell and showed in the most convincing manner, that his votes and speeches were all in the interest of the eastern manufactory, instead of the Illinois farmers.

Mr. Scott stated his position on all the principal questions of interest now before the people in a way that admitted of no doubt or equivocation. He urged the voters to forget their prejudices and dead issues of the past and to face the vital questions of the present, the questions that affect their own welfare. He made a convincing argument in favor of the free coinage of silver, and his review of the inequalities of the McKinley high tariff bill for which Rowell voted, was clear and forcible. His was a speech addressed to the brain rather than to the heart and many republicans present admitted the soundness of his logic.

The results of the convention are all that any democrat could ask for. The nominees for the respective offices are all men of individual merit and fitness, and the farmers and the old soldiers received substantial recognition instead of the snub that was administered at the republican convention last week.

Of the personnel of the ticket more anon. Suffice it to say that the general verdict is that the convention could not have done better and the nominations represent the combined wisdom of the democracy of Macon county. The convention was harmonious throughout and the democracy entered upon the short but important campaign that is before them with abundant reason to anticipate most important results.

ADJOURNS TILL MONDAY

Great Court Gives Way to the Democracy

Business in the circuit court was commenced at 8:30 yesterday morning and at 11 adjournment was made until 1 o'clock Monday afternoon. The morning was occupied with work on the Harry Pitt case. The defendant was on the stand and went through the mill of examination, cross examination and re-examination. The prosecution and defense have each made a case and the jury will probably take all the time of the Monday afternoon session and Tuesday will doubtless be all taken up with the arguments on each side, so the case is not likely to go to the jury until late that day. Both sides seem confident of success. The prosecution believes it has made out a perfectly clear case, and the defense believes the same. If the jury should convict Pitts the case will undoubtedly be carried to the Supreme court before it is finally given up.

In the case of John B. Noe and James E. Noe, indicted for assault with intent to rob and robbery, a motion was made by the defense to reduce bail, and Judge Vandenberg put each of them to $500. It had previously been $1,000.

There were no entries on either the chancery or the common law dockets.

FIRST GUN AT KENNEY.

The New Opera House Dedicated by the Democrats

KENNEY, Ill., Sept. 11.—Last night the first Democratic meeting was held here. The town was full of people, the ladies especially turning out well. At the call of the band nearly 300 persons assembled in the magnificent new opera house of E. W. Fruit, an old side democrat, who had his building dedicated by a democratic meeting.

For one hour and forty five minutes the people listened to the brilliant young orator, Lawrence Stringer, of Lincoln. He discussed the subject "Tariff is a tax." Although Mr. Stringer is a young man, he proved himself no tyro in the knowledge of his subject. His speech seemed to team with apt anecdotes, while the main current of his argument was deep, logical and convincing. Many republicans were present, and we think the speech is food for their thoughts. He closed his speech amid rounds of applause by calling upon the voters to support Owen Scott and John M. Palmer.

At the conclusion of the meeting E. J. Sweeney, candidate for the county judgeship, made a few remarks.

A Japanese Girl

Mrs. Milton Thomas, Mrs. N. E. Adams, and Mrs. John Mark, returned last night from Indianapolis, where they have been attending the meeting of the Northwestern branch of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist church. Mrs. C. G. Wood was there also, but she returned yesterday morning, accompanied by Jennie Lott, a Japanese girl who has been attending college at Pennington, N. J. She graduated this summer, and will return to Japan in November as a missionary to teach her country people. While in Decatur Miss Lott will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Mark. She is a handsome girl, with the black hair and eyes of her people and a face bright with intelligence. She made the best of records while at school, and wears with great pride a gold medal received as a prize.

George Bell and Silas Long will go to Maroa this morning to breakfast. The roads are getting smooth again and more trips into the country are being projected. A party of cyclists, both ladies and gentlemen, are talking of getting up a nutting party. They will go out on their wheels.

Miss Bertha Hendricks, Dr. J. J. Moore and A. Brown are new members of the Star Cycling club.

Corn Coming in

A great deal of new corn was brought into the city yesterday by farmers. It sold at 5c. The dealers do not like to take it at that price, because it shrinks so. This corn is very green now, and in two or three months will weigh a third less. The ears are large though, and the quality of the crop is generally good.

AMUSEMENTS THIS WEEK

The Henry Burlesque company will appear at the Grand Opera House on Tuesday evening, Oct. 14. This company is considered by critics to be the most talented and entertaining of the American stage and is presented by an array of talent never collected together before in a burlesque company. McIntyre & Heath, the celebrated blackface comedians, head the list of artists connected with the organization. Eldora the famous juggler, Will West, the famous descriptive realist, the Comland sisters, the St. Louis Maxwell, Nettie Von Bee, Louise Bliss, Pearl Richmond, Lida Williams, Katie Leslie, Minnie Smetan, the famous comedienne, and other also hold prominent parts on the program.

An exchange says of the Minstrel booked for Thursday, Oct. 16th:

It is refreshing to see a negro minstrel show composed of real negroes and real minstrels. McCabe & Young's troupe gave a performance last night that filled the bill completely. They were not imitation darkies, and their fun was not strained. Neither, strange as it may seem, were they poor musicians or bungling performers. The show was a clever one from beginning to end—no chestnuts, no humbug, but bright and crisp, and enjoyable throughout. At the risk of shocking the conservative opinion of Montgomery, we make bold to say that McCabe & Young's minstrels are, in everything that goes to constitute a good minstrel, as far above George Wilcox's minstrels as the moon above our woodshed.

REVIEW POSTOFFICE

It is a Lie

EDITOR REVIEW.—The republican of Friday said John M. Palmer spoke at Joliet to less than 50 people. I know that is a lie, and know that the man who printed it knows it too. The idea that John M. Palmer would have no more than 50 people to hear him in any town, is ridiculous. But Joliet! the statement is foolish. I lived at Joliet 12 years ago and then there was 1200 democratic majority. HONESTY.

Attorneys Mansfield and Hicks, of Platt county, were here yesterday to see Judge Vail on business connected with the Holden-Dunham case.

Capt. Rowell will speak at Macon on Tuesday, at Blue Mound on Wednesday, at Niantic Thursday and at Maroa Friday. All are afternoon meetings.

The Tait checkrigger factory is now running 15 men. The full force will be at work in about a month. The prospects are good for a big business this year.

The T. H. & P. had 10 cars of race horses out of Terre Haute last night. Some went to Bloomington, where they have a fair this week, and some went to Independence, Ia.

Hattie E. Stare was yesterday appointed administratrix of the estate of William H. Stare. She gave bond in the sum of $3,000 with J. K. Warren and Albert Barnes as sureties.

Miss Nellie Gher entertained about 25 young friends last night at her home on West Macon street. It was her 16th birthday. The young people had a pleasant evening.

"Fantasma" had a big matinee house yesterday evening and the children were much delighted. In the evening another big house greeted it, though the first floor was not as full as it was the night before.

Said a prominent republican yesterday: "What's the matter with these damned farmers, anyway? We gave them Keller, ain't that enough?" It looks as if they are going to say it's not enough.

A good many people are going to Chicago on the Wabash excursion this week. Tickets for the round trip are only $3.50, good going on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, and returning until the following Monday.

Mrs. T. W. Pinkerton and her class of seven boys went out yesterday afternoon on a picnic to the V. Barber place, north of the city. Misses Sue Odor and Ida Eysman took their classes to Oakland park yesterday afternoon.

A great many amateur sportsmen are kicking themselves these days because they did not go to the Terre Haute races. But few went from Decatur, while there are usually a great many. Better races are not seen than those at this meeting.

Fully 300 people are employed by the Race Clothing and Manufacturing company. About 30 girls work on the third floor over their Water street store. The others are the women who take the work to their homes and do it while they look after the children.

The new building for the Starr Harness company on North Main Street, is progressing well. The stone front is completed to almost the height of the first story, and the other stories are even higher. Some of the joist in the rear have been laid.

The Brunswick hotel changed hands at noon yesterday, the new proprietor, W. A. Truax, taking charge just before dinner. J. F. Curry, the ex-proprietor, will remain there for a few days, and will take charge of the European hotel some time this week.

The first brick were laid yesterday on the new flour warehouse of the Shellabarger Mill and Elevator company. The building will be 40x80 feet, just north of the lately refitted office building. A bridge at the second story will connect the warehouse with the main mill building.

P. S. Moore, of Beaver Falls, Pa., who has been here the last week, left last night for his home. He came to get work, but the second day after his arrival was taken sick. He had no acquaintances in Decatur, but was a Knight of Pythias, and members of Chevalier Bayard lodge have visited and cared for him.

The high school debating club has elected these officers: President, Clair Mitchell; vice-president, John Shay; secretary, Will Armstrong; treasurer, Lewis Coonrad; marshal, Ira Roberts; critic, Lon Tuttle; executive committee, Wilson Woodford, Floyd Gastman and Hugh Bone.

The republican head men met last night at John A. Brown's office and had a powwow that lasted until away into the night. Evidently the prospect is not bright, and the folks have some problems that are scaring them considerably.

Supervisor Newell fell down stairs Thursday night, in his home on East Eldorado street, and sustained severe injuries. His head was cut, his shoulders badly bruised and his ankle sprained. He will be out some time this week. Dr. J. H. Eddy is attending him.

About 20 young fellows came from Cerro Gordo last night. They had hardly got off the train before the whole gang thought it was howling drunk. It was howling, all right. After taking in the town as they thought, and making everybody very tired, they got off for Cerro Gordo on the midnight train.

The Decatur Trunk Manufacturing company, not being able to get any one else to handle their trunks here in the retail trade, have concluded to go into the retail business themselves. Their big ad elsewhere in this issue gives a few pointers about what they can do. It is a home institution and should receive the support of Decatur people.

The street car and hotel solicitors were unwontedly subdued yesterday, and no relling in opposition to one another could be heard. The levee policeman informed them in the morning that no more of such loud solicitation would be permitted, as there is an ordinance against it, and the first one to so indulge would be arrested. The noise had been carried to such an extent as to become a nuisance, and the regulation is a welcome one.

TRACK AND TRAIN.

Targetman Phillips returned yesterday morning from Terre Haute, where he saw all the races.

No. 2 on the Wabash, was 23 minutes late last night. It was laid out by a freight train that broke in two this side of Taylorville.

A new floor and new stair have been built for the target house at the depot, and the target men walk straighter and feel prouder on account of it. The improvements were badly needed.

The L. D. & W. brought in the Wabash chair car for the west yesterday afternoon. It had missed connections at Indianapolis, and did not get here for its regular place on the early afternoon train.

Four Wabash carpenters came from Springfield yesterday. A car load of timber was unloaded at crossings on Water, Main, and one or two other streets. New crossings for pedestrians will be put down at once.

A Serious Case.

Dr. Walston was called to Blue Mound yesterday to see an unusual case. F. Ulrich, a druggist, and one of the leading men of Blue Mound, has been suffering for some time with a swelling on his right shoulder. The last three or four weeks it has been as big as a gallon bucket. In that time, Mr. Ulrich has been getting very sick. Yesterday he was so bad that the family sent for Dr. Walston. Dr. Harvey at Blue Mound, who has been treating the case, made a small opening in the place Friday. Dr. Walston was sure the swelling had not been lanced thoroughly enough, and he proposed to make another opening. Dr. Harvey gave him some ether, but not enough to deaden the pain. When the knife touched Mr. Ulrich, he flinched and bled unconscious as he was, began to scream in the most distressing way. His screams were deafening almost, and could be heard over half the town. The people began to run in, and presently a great crowd gathered. Dr. Walston went on with his work, however, and removed a great quantity of pus.

When Dr. Walston left he thought there was one chance for Mr. Ulrich's recovery to three against it.

What caused the abscess is not known. It might have been a bruise.

To Be Spelled With Two R's.

The United States postal authorities have decided that hereafter all good and obedient citizens must spell the name of the village of Forrest, on the Wabash between Decatur and Chicago, with two R's. It was formerly spelled with one or two R's, as best suited the convenience or the ratiocinative meditativeness, or the syllogistic premises of the individual speller, but the postal authorities have always insisted on spelling it with one r. At the earnest solicitation of Postmaster Bullard the consent of the department has been obtained to change the name of the postoffice from Forrest to Forrest, thus securing uniformity in spelling the names of towns, villages, and offices, but some time will be required to protect the entire change of firms, raising stamps, etc. This change necessitated a new bond, appointment, commission, both of postmasters and assistants, the same as required by the appointment of a new postmaster. The office was named for a Mr. Forrest, who was a partner of Mr. Frost, the first president of the T. P. & W. railroad.

Notice.

No one is authorized to contract debts in name of "Co-operative club." And debts thus contracted the "club" will not be responsible for. By Order of President.

A Wise Precaution.

Dolbs—Germany is to connect Heligoland with the empire by two new cables. Dumsley—That's right. Them Englishmen never knew how to be honest, but they'll have hard work stealing back Heligoland now, I guess. Germany is long-headed.—Chicago Times.

A Careful Countryman.

A countryman stops an omnibus, and wishes to mount to the interior. Conductor—All full inside, but there is plenty of room on top of the omnibus. Countryman—But does it go to the same place?—Texas Sittings.

Inhuman Treatment.

"And don't you feel terribly the disgrace of being sent to prison?" asked the visitor. "No, ma'am," returned the ex-tramp. "It ain't the disgrace of being sent, but it's the work that's eatin' my heart away."—New York Sun.

He Takes the Prize.

"How many sexes are there, Willie?" "Three. Male, female and gents." "How do you distinguish gents from males?" "By their pants."—New York Herald.

A Cruel Thrust.

Algernon—Do you know I think that Smith girl is utterly bound up in me. Jack—Nice little edition—but why does she prefer calf?—New York World.

In the Woods.

Caller—I never met your husband before. What's the matter with— Mrs. Bruin—S-sh! We never speak of it in his presence. He got his head and shoulders caught in Farmer Russett's cider press when he was a cub, and they've never grown since.—Once a Week.

TRY : IT : ON : A : DOG.

What is the difference (From a Clothing point of view) Between a man and a dog?

A dog makes pants that he don't wear.

A man wears pants that he don't make.

FUNNY THING

About the dog is, that he has no use for pants in winter. His pants are all Summer pants. And talking about

WHY EXHIBIT?

And now word has come that the world's fair board of Italy has been dissolved. If this course is pursued, Italy will have no representation as a Nation at the great show in Chicago. The line of argument pursued by that government is that there is no sense to go to the expense of an exhibit of goods in a country where they are not allowed to be sold. The trouble is, there are other European countries that are meditating the same action.
This thing of exhibiting goods is partly a matter of business. It is a way of advertising. It costs money; and people will not go into it if they are in advance excluded from all possibility of getting some return for their labor. A merchant would not think of advertising among a people he could not reach. And there is something of the mercantile feeling in all these national exhibits. This government invites foreigners over to show their goods, but warns them in advance that they must not think of selling anything under pain of heavy penalty. Perhaps it thinks they are hauling shiploads of goods about with them just for JAY GOULD says that as clothes will be dearer under the McKinley bill, the workman can even things up by wearing one suit hereafter in the time he formerly took to wear two. And Jay talks as if there was no hardships in this. Another round with McKinley and his conspirators, and the people will be told they can go naked. The republican party is bound to introduce some of the features of the Garden of Paradise. their health. This is a mistake; and perhaps the managers of the fair will discover that it is a pretty good-sized one before they get done with their undertaking. A world's fair to succeed in a land that patterns after China, must ever proceed upon the hypothesis that Providence is specially kind to the fools.

THE bory English government has its bail bonds, but they tell us that Dillon and O'Brien are on the high seas. The government may collect its bond, but in the case of Irish patriots jails are stronger than gold to muzzle honest speech. They have got away from the jail, and now let the orations go on.
Has Mr. Millikin yet expressed himself as in favor of a line of legislation that will bring about a lower rate of interest? In other words, will he be out of the banking business to break into the legislature?

Chesterville.
Dr. H. D. Jenkins was in town Thursday. Isaac Costler, republican candidate for representative, passed through Wednesday enroute to Arthur.
Six tickets were sold Wednesday for the races at Terre Haute.
Newton Chandler went to Decatur Wednesday, to visit G. R. Bacon.
D. Buttler and wife returned last evening from a few days visit in Terre Haute.
Mrs. Alma Griffith, of Lake City, is visiting her parents near here.
Hon. Nalton Jones is stumping for the F. M. B. A.
David Spielman went to Mattoon the 8th to attend a county assembly of the F. M. B. A.
John Apperson, of Paris, is visiting his brother, J. H. Apperson, of Bourbon.
J. A. House received four car loads of stone Wednesday.
The pile driver of the T. H. & P. placed some new piling at the west end of the bridge one day last week.

A Jesuit Meteorologist.

Padre Vines, a celebrated Jesuit priest in Havana, has for the past quarter of a century been making weather predictions at Havana.
It was the padre who predicted a hurricane, and the reports from Havana verified the prediction. He is regarded by navigators and meteorologists all over the world as one of the most correct and reliable of weather scientists of the age.
For the past quarter of a century Padre Vines has made this work purely a labor of love. He is a highly cultured gentleman, unassuming and a profound scholar. Fully appreciating the valuable services rendered by the padre some time since, the United States government offered him a handsome salary in recognition of his past services. This offer he promptly declined, because the rules of the Jesuits' order prohibited it.
Capt. J. McElvick, of the steamship Hutchinson, of the Southern Pacific system, is well acquainted with the padre, and in speaking of him said "For the many years that I have been navigating the Gulf I have never touched at Havana without calling on the padre when the opportunity presented itself. During the hurricane season his opinion is always anxiously sought after. Before the connections with the Windward Islands were perfected the padre's predictions were always looked for anxiously by navigators. Today the cable only recently laid gave him a large scope and make his forecasts more reliable and important to commerce."—New Orleans Times Democrat

Stopped Dying to Revoke the Audience.
During the death scene in the play of "Camille" at the Opera house Miss Irene Taylor, who had the role of Camille, treated the audience to a real exhibition of feeling not on the programme. The heroine was dying of consumption. Death was just about to lay its skeleton fingers upon her tired form. Her eyes began to assume that fixed, glassy expression which immediately precedes dissolution, and she gasped painfully for breath. The scene was well studied, realistic and pathetic, and she was about to drop into the arms of her agonized lover—dead—when several women in the audience laughed.

Immediately the face of the dying woman assumed a stern and angry expression. She stood defiantly erect, and pointing her finger at the offenders said in withering tones: "Any woman who would laugh during such a scene as this is utterly void of any sense of delicacy or refinement or feeling. She is totally lacking in the sentiments of common humanity, and could not appreciate anything higher than the Topsy or the donkey in 'Uncle Tom's Cabin'."
When she had delivered herself of this ebullition of indignation she calmly and deliberately proceeded to die in the most approved style—counterfeiting death with wonderful accuracy, and there was no more titling, either.—Punk-stawney Spirit.

Big Fish Story.

"Fishing." Yes, I should say I have been fishing," exclaimed Mr. Peters, who had been up in the Rocky mountains for trout and had just got back to his Kansas home. He was in the village store.
"I suppose you can tell us some big fish stories?" said one of the crowd.
Mr. Peters did not look at him. Instead he looked dreamily at the shelves behind the counter draped with pink mosquito bar.
"There was a big trout in one of the shallows of one of the streams near where I stopped up in the Rockies," said he, "and some folks said that fellow had been seen right there every year for seven years. He was all marked up with hook scars headed over round his mouth, and there was a mighty big callous on his back. They said that scar was made by a man from New York who tried to spear him. Think of trying to spear a mountain trout!"
"Well, you took it, of course?" Out with it. Get in your bragging. You've a right to crow if you got him when other folks had tried for seven years and couldn't."
These exclamations from the bystanders brought a smile to Mr. Peters' face.
"That's the biggest part of it all," said he. "Talk about big fish stories! This is one none of you gentlemen can beat. Yes, gentlemen, I let that trout be"—Youth's Companion

Teach Them to Stand Alone.

Society is much infested with adult babies who cannot, or will not, stand alone. These weaklings are decidedly more troublesome than the little toddlers who stagger from chair to chair in their first attempts at unassisted locomotion. The grown up infant makes no effort to support himself. He insists upon always having hold of somebody's hand, and if he has nothing to cling to or to lean against he lies down and gives up. There are few energetic, prosperous men who are not embarrassed with one or more of these dead weights.
The best service that any man to whom they attached themselves can render them, is to shake them off, providing them, if possible, with an opportunity to exercise whatever ability, whether of the head or the hand, they may possess. There are indolent, irresolute men who can be taught to stand alone. But he who is incapable of making any effort by which success can be achieved is a hopeless case. He is a mere "cumber of the ground," and without value in society.—New York Ledger.

The Kiss in Literature.

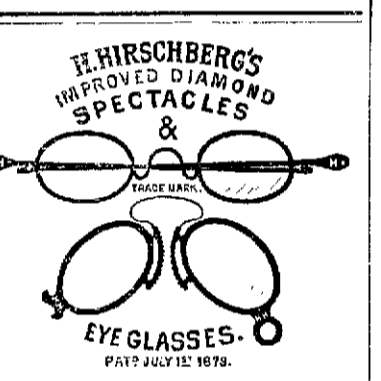

All authors, both men and women, have used the kiss to enhance the flavor of their pages, but with a difference. Women treat it with more deliberate ceremony and solemn significance, the men show better taste by giving it a light, humorous touch. Shakespeare deals with it profusely, and one of his merry characters advises all lovers to offer a kiss when they can think of nothing to say.
Dickens could describe a kissing scene with an inimitable mixture of fun and sentiment.
Thackeray was very delicate in his treatment of our subject. Clive Newcomb enjoyed a little railroad trip with Miss Ethel when they were in love. It was only limited that the lovers kissed in the dark.—Kate Kauffman in Jennie's Miller Magazine

The Wool Smoke Cure.

The value of the smoke from burned wool to remove the pain and soreness from wounds of all kinds, or from sores, is great, and it will give immediate relief from the intense pain caused by a gathering. The easiest way to prepare this is to cut all wool flannel—if you haven't the wool—in narrow strips, take some hot ashes with a few small live coals on a shovel, sprinkle some of the flannel strips on it, and hold the injured member to the smoke for five or ten minutes, using plenty of the flannel to make a thick smoke. Repeat as often as seems necessary, though one smoking is usually enough.—New York Journal.

A GOOD MAN.

Few men are better known in Central Illinois than Rev. A. A. Stevens. For many years he was pastor of the Congregational Church in Peoria. He is not the only distinguished by a life of vital piety, but by great practical benevolence, by wise foresight, and by the most profound sense of justice. No man's advice is so widely sought as is his. No man's opinion is listened to with greater respect. Having labored all his life for the good of others he has yet, by the exercise of judicious economy and sound business sense, amassed enough to make him comfortable in the decline of life, so that he is spending his years now like a sage in his own academic grove. When such a man therefore recommends a thing the public can be assured that it is done from the best of motives.
Rev. Stevens had a grandchild that was suffering with a severe cold with symptoms of the croup. He heard of Reid's German Cough and Kidney Cure and gave it a dose. The effect was so remarkable, relief was so immediate, that he used it again and again, and he says that Reid's German Cough and Kidney Cure is the most wonderful medicine he ever saw. Perfectly harmless, but always reliable. This testimonial is all the more gratifying because it comes entirely unsolicited, and the high character of Mr. Stevens shows that his verdict is based upon actual trial. It is such evidence as this that will convince the most skeptical. It contains no poison. For sale by all druggists.

Confirmed.

The favorable impression produced on the first appearance of the agreeable liquid fruit remedy Syrup of Figs a few years ago has been more than confirmed by the pleasant experience of all who have used it, and the success of the proprietors and manufacturers of the California Fig Syrup company.

Giving the Secrets Away.

Considerable excitement has been occasioned lately among the members of a prominent secret society by the rumor that a member had been giving the secrets of the order away. A reporter who was sent to investigate the matter found that the stories were undoubtedly true, but that pending an investigation by the order, nothing could be published. In the meantime everybody is buying great quantities of new carpets, wall paper and drapery at Abel's, on East Main street.

A Property Row.

Rudolph Flescht was arrested yesterday on a state warrant issued by Justice Hammer and sworn out by Fred Krause. It charged him with defacing and destroying property belonging to Krause, and stated that the damages were more than $15. The circumstances of the case are about as follows:

A number of men in the northeast part of town built a band hall in partnership, one paying for a certain amount of stock in it. Flescht gradually bought up the stock of all the holders except Krause who would not sell, or with whom there was some difference as to price. Flescht then wanted to move away or tear down the building and proceeded to do so, and Krause wishes to punish him for it. The case will be tried Tuesday at 2 o'clock by Justice Hammer.

Gave Him a Cigar, Probably.

The Champaign Gazette had this to say Thursday:

"While Judge Vail has been on the bench but a short time, he has won the universal esteem and confidence of all litigants, jurors and attorneys with whom he has come in contact. His decisions are always given with utmost respect, candor and justice, and they have been almost universally upheld by the higher courts. The manner in which he has presided at this trial of court, and the dispatch with which he has transacted the business, has convinced every one that he is an invaluable member of our circuit bench."

Sangamon Seining.

Justice Hammer, interviewed another batch of bold fishermen yesterday afternoon who had been arrested on warrants sworn out by Fish Warden Richard Harkness, charging them with seining in the Sangamon. These were from near Sangamon station. Alexander Miller paid a fine of $10 and costs, and the others were released on payment of costs. They were William Betrick, Jack Goodpasture, Calves Pobst and Felix Pobst.

A CERRO GORDO RUMPUS.

A Country Gang Undertakes to Clean Out the Town.

CERRO GORDO, Oct. 11.—For some time dances have been held at Lyon's hall in this place, and the men and boys from the country who attend them often get disorderly. Last night a crowd of them came here with the avowed intention of "cleaning out the town." They brought plenty of the necessary stimulants in bottles and soon began to make things lively. "Pink" Clifton, of old time whiskey-selling fame, was the first to open the entertainment, which he did by swearing at Officer Bell. He was promptly placed under arrest, and when he began to offer resistance, it was found that he had a revolver. He was relieved of this and placed in the lock-up. By this time there were three other men, one by the name of Nelson and two by the name of Nolan, all of near Cisco, who were in need of attention. They offered considerable resistance, but by the use of considerable muscle, some good clubs and a few persuasive revolvers, the officers landed them in the lock-up.

Nelson gave security in the sum of $50 in cash for his appearance to-day at 10 o'clock, and the two Nolans gave bond for $25. At 1 o'clock the Nolans pleaded guilty and were fined $10 and costs. Nelson will stand trial and has engaged C. T. Mansfield to defend him.

While Clifton was in the calaboose a crowbar was smuggled into him. Just as he was proceeding to batter his way out, the officers "caught on," and stopped it. This morning he was bound over, and pending transfer to the jail at Monticello, was out in care of an officer. He succeeded in making his escape. It is thought no attempt will be made to recapture him.

Done Up by His Own Hand.

There is an author in this town, though the world perhaps hardly knows it, who writes a worse hand than did Horace Greeley. He hugs the delusion that he writes beautifully—all infernally bad writers do. About a month ago a newspaper man made the author—you will observe the distinction—a bet that if he sent a short story to a certain magazine in his own handwriting it would be returned to him with or without thanks, and that the same story type written would be accepted. The bet was accepted, the trial made, and the newspaper man won the bet. The story written with a pen came back. With it was a polite note stating that Mr. — must not suppose that the story was rejected for lack of merit, etc., etc. The type written story was accepted, and the check somewhat recouped the author for the money lost on the wager.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

An Informal Tax.

A French railroad has hit upon a new source of revenue. In future people who accompany their friends to any of the stations on that line to see them off will only be admitted on the platform on payment of a fee of one penny, in return for which they will receive a special ticket of authorization. For those who are apt to tarry a long while over their leave taking there is a further tax, as the ticket is only available for one hour, at the end of which time another must, if necessary, be obtained.—Paris Letter.

Of all the vegetables which furnish nourishment to man the banana is the most prolific. A single cluster often contains 150 to 180 pods and weighs from sixty to eighty pounds. Humboldt says that a piece of land of 120 square yards will produce 4,000 pounds weight of fruit, while the same area will rarely produce more than thirty pounds weight of wheat or eighty pounds of potatoes.

The native-born Elephant bids fair to rival the great imported Jumbo in size and weight, but it is pretty generally known that nothing rivals the great remedy, Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. "What shall I do," the maiden cried, "He will be here to-night and my hands are chapped, and he will hold them." "Calm yourself dear," her mamma replied, "we've a bottle of Salvation Oil."

A BOSTON HIGHWAYMAN.

He Was Obligated to Steal, But Still Sustained the Honor of His Birthplace.

"Pause!" sternly commanded the footpad, pointing a loaded revolver at the head of the belated pedestrian. "Suspend progress immediately, or with the index member of the digital extremities of my dexter manipulatory organ I communicate motion to the small metallic lever on the nether side of this weapon and release the mechanism it holds in check, thereby permitting the resultant concussion to explode the detonating fulminate contained in the rearward portion of the cartridge, vaporize the combined product of nitrate of potash, sulphur and pulverized carbon with which it is in immediate contact, and impart a sudden propelling impulse to the elongated leaden projectile, to secure the propulsion of which with adequate velocity this mechanical device originally was brought into the sphere of action."

"What do you want?" gasped the astonished victim.

"The immediate transfer and surrender of whatever auriferous or argentiferous disks coined for purposes of exchange, or printed notes exchangeable for such disks, of which you may by any fortuitous concatenation of circumstances be the possessor, together with such other articles of intrinsic value, or capable of being hypothecated for the necessary means of subsistence, as may have found a temporary lodgment in your garments. Nothing of a nutritious or alimentary nature has passed my lips for twenty-four hours," he added, with a smothered sob. "The exigencies of my financial situation leave me no other resource than to take these imperative measures. Extrude the impedimenta or the creptation will eventuate at once."

"Is it something to eat you want?"

"That is the summum bonum of my ambition—the ne plus ultra of my hopes."

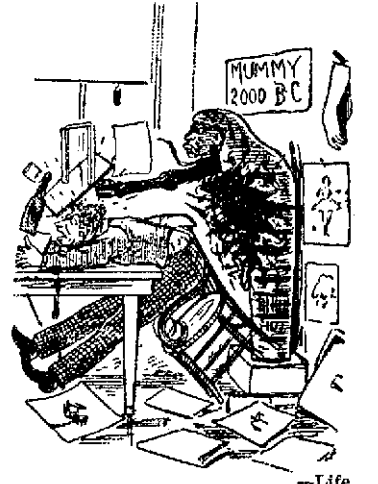

From a basket on his arm the belated traveler took out a cylindrical package. He gave it to the footpad, who held it up where the flickering rays of a dim street lamp fell upon it, gave one glance at the printed label, shrieked deliriously, and fainted for joy.

It was a can of baked beans.—Chicago Tribune.

More Than Even a Mummy Could Stand.

Mr. Doodle (the caricaturist)—Ha, ha! I have it! I'll draw a man with an ax cutting up a boarding house pie.

A Clear Case.

Jaggers—What ever became of Penought's dog? You know it used to give you so much trouble.

Wiggler—Oh! It's dead.

Jaggers—Did you kill it?

Wiggler—No. It committed suicide.

Jaggers—Suicide! How?

Wiggler—It came over into my yard while I was sitting here with a loaded pistol.—Munsey's Weekly.

But What Was On It.

"What do you think of the table?" asked the landlady of the new boarder, who is of a vivacious nature, and at the same time hates to hurt anybody's feelings.

"Really," said he, after some hesitation, "I can conscientiously endorse your table as a masterpiece of cabinet making."—Washington Post.

By Contraries.

"Ethel, you are so contradictory I don't know how to take you. You can't mean all you say in your letter refusing to be my wife?"

"But I do—mean every word of it."

"Then you are mine, truly?"—Harper's Bazar.

How It Was.

Alice (sobbing)—Oh, I shall die of grief! That awful Charley Thompson won my heart and promised to marry me, and now—now he says he doesn't love me any more! Maude—Oh, I see? First he wooed and then he wooed't.—Lowell Citizen.

A Grave Danger.

"Do you think it safe for you to wear knickerbockers, chappie?"

"Yes. Why not?"

"You might be arrested for having no visible means of support!"—New York Herald.

Ensnared.

He held her hand quite tenderly, And pressed it now and then; She blushed, and let him have his way, As girls do with young men.

He put his arms around her waist, And drew her to his side; Of course, she could have got away— If she had only tried.

He slowly raised her blushing face And looked into her eyes; Of course, I thought she would resist; But, much to my surprise,

She answered all his looks of love, And gave him kisses for his. They're married now, and oh! 'twould make You sick to see their bliss!
